WOULD EXTEND WORK FOR HEALTH

Among a multitude of other things Governor Frear probably will recommend to the legislature that a portion of the present revolving fund of $550,000, now used under the insular lands act, be made available for similar usage by the public health department in enforcing compliance with the abatement of nuisances act.

At present the revolving fund may be used only for the reclamation of low, unhealthy lands, and is soon to be drawn upon in the Kewalo project active work upon which is expected to begin some time during the present month.

Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, in his report to the governor, has recommended that a separate revolving fund, of $20,000 to $30,000 be set aside for work under the abatement of nuisances statute, but the latter is inclined to think that the combination of the two would be simpler and more practical and convenient.

Under the abatement of nuisances act the board of health is required to compel property owners to dissipate uncleanly conditions around their homes, such as unsanitary toilets, inefficient sewers, stagnant water pools, etc. Dr. Pratt explains that in many instances it is practically impossible to compel compliance with the rule, either because of the expense entailed or the inability of the owners to have the work done because of lack of funds.

In such cases he thinks the proper way is for the board to see that the work is accomplished; if the owner has not the money to pay for the improvement at once, taking a lien against the property which would permit the proprietor to pay the cost in installments or at least at some later time, when he could obtain the money.

TOKIO, February 10.—Six persons are dead, sixty-five are wounded and Tokio is practically in a state of siege today, the result of rioting which culminated with the resignation of Premier Katsura together with his fellow cabinet members at noon today.

Armed troops are patrolling the streets today, the city is in a state of excitement bordering on panic.

The present panic has been impending for some time, and as members of the opposing parties announced desertions from the ranks of their rivals the feeling became more tense.

Premier Katsura was the object of the wrath of a mob of several thousand infuriated partisans of the anti-Katsura supporters. As the premier was seen leaving the palace the crowd charged. The premier was surrounded by imperial troops, shots were fired to repel the attack and members of the mob were mowed down. The stand of the troops for a time repelled the mob and the premier was rushed to a place of safety.

Ambulances were sent to the scene and the dead and wounded were carried from the street facing the palace.
